

Basic Life Support (BLS)

Training & Health Screening Camp

Basic health care and awareness programme organized at Srinagar International Airport, Srinagar

Airports Authority of India, Srinagar International Airport in collaboration with the Directorate of Health Services, Kashmir, Govt. of J&K, conducted Basic Life Support (BLS) training and health screening camp. The BLS is required to be refreshed to handle any health related emergency at Airport or elsewhere, since winter is on the anvil, it is found appropriate to retrain the staff which is available at airport to immediately take care of the passengers and others to provide relief which sometimes is very crucial to revive the vital organs till the medical help reaches.

The trainees are the staff of all Airlines, Concessioners, employees of AAI, Ground Handling Agencies including J & K Police, CRPF staff deployed at Airport. The significance of this training is that it is based on current global protocols by use of Simulation methodology. Health screening camp on non communicable diseases (NCD) to cover all the employees working at airport to check their present health status with respect to common cancer, hypertension, diabetes and other related disease by specialist doctors are of utmost importance and the employees are advised about basic health care and preventive measures to avoid sedentary life-style and keep good health.

In the Basic Life Support (BLS) training camp after physical and visual assessment Blood pressure, random blood sugar measured and with the help of Mannequins, spinal boards, scoop trolleys and ambulance trolley, Advance cardiac life support and emergency room training on SIM Man, SIM Mom and mega code Kelly is imparted.

The endeavour of AAI for this innovative life support training and health screening is to take care of its customers i.e. passengers and by imparting this training, the customer service and operational excellence remains the focus of AAI and all out efforts are made to provide best of services at AAI airports for customer delight.