COIMBATORE

Coimbatore is the third largest city of the state. Coimbatore is one of the most industrialized cities in Tamil Nadu, known as the textile capital of South India or the Manchester of the South, the city is situated on the banks of the river, Noyyal, Coimbatore existed even prior to the 2nd or 3rd century AD.

The people of Coimbatore are known for their hospitality, well educated and are very polite. The city is a multicultural society with large Tamil speaking community.

As the city shares its boundary with Kerala and Karnataka, a large number of Kerlites and Kannada speaking people are also present. Apart from those, many other people like Badagas, Rajasthanis and Gujaratis are also found in large number. Most of the people are here because of the growth in industrial sector and availability of high class education.
