New Delhi, 3rd June, 2025: Kalyanmayee – the Women Welfare Association of the Airports Authority of India (AAIWWA), in collaboration with the AAI Artist Forum (AAIAF), Federation of Indian Photographers & Artists (FIPA), and Kalantar Art Trust, proudly presented the fifth edition of its annual art exhibition, “PRERNA-5: Art of Emotions,” held from 26th to 29th May 2025 at the Indian Aviation Academy, Vasant Kunj, New Delhi.

This year’s exhibition marked a significant chapter in the ongoing celebration of artistic expression and emotional depth. The exhibition followed a vibrant art camp held earlier in the month of February, at AAI Officers Institute, where amateur and professional artists came together to share ideas, techniques and inspiration.

With the evocative theme “Art of Emotions,” PRERNA-5 explored the depths of human feelings expressed through colors, lines and imaginative forms. This initiative reflects Kalyanmayee’s vision of nurturing creativity and emotional well-being within the AAI community and beyond.

“Art connects hearts where words fall short. Through Prerna, we celebrate not just creativity, but the emotions that unite us as one family,” said a representative from Kalyanmayee.

The exhibition offered visitors a deeply moving experience, encouraging conversations around the healing and unifying power of art. By bringing together artists and art lovers from varied backgrounds, Kalyanmayee continues to strengthen community ties and promote holistic wellness through culture and creativity.
