Subject: Seeking clarification regarding Double HRA (DHRA) rules.

Sir,

Reference is made to your office letter no. AAI/NER/RED/DHRA/10928-29 dated 18.03.2019 on the subject cited above.

2. In this matter, clarification on different cases of DHRA is as follow:

S.No.	Brief of cases	Clarification
1.	Where both employees i.e husband and wife are employees of AAI and are claiming HRA as they are not residing in AAI accommodation. They are claiming DHRA for their dependents i.e. mother-in-law, father-in-law or parents at previous station or to any other station where they kept their families.	If both husband & wife are employees of AAI & are posted to NER & have left their dependents to previous station or other station, then only one of them is eligible for double HRA
2.	In some cases, where both employees are employed, but husband is working in AAI and wife is employed in other govt./semi govt. or vice versa and both are claiming double HRA. They are claiming DHRA for their dependent family members who are staying in their own/rented house.	If both husband & wife are posted in NER then, double HRA is admissible to one of them subject to condition that his/her spouse is not availing the facility of double HRA from his/her office.
3.	Whether or not to give double HRA to an official on initial appointment who kept their family members in their own houses/rented house	An employee is not entitled for DHRA on initial posting.
